Course Description:
This course introduces students to the concepts and competencies of digital information literacy, which include the ability to access, use, organize, create, integrate, disseminate, synthesize and evaluate information in digital formats. The “digitally information literate” student will be proficient in the effective use of information in digital formats as applied in academic programs, professional work, and lifelong learning.

By the end of this course, the digitally information literate learner will:
- Understand how digital technologies shape information
- Navigate complex digital domains
- Apply knowledge and skills to current digital tools
- Apply flexible strategies for finding, using, and creating digital information

Materials:
No textbook is required for this course. Readings will be available online, posted to your Blackboard course shell.

Requirements:
1. Participate in classroom and online discussions and post comments on assigned readings.
2. Complete online assignments. Assignments turned in late will have points deducted.
3. Complete final research project. Projects turned in late will have points deducted.
4. Notify the instructor ahead of time if you are not able to submit your work on time or able to participate in a class session.
5. The instructor will provide timely feedback on all required assignments submitted by the due date and will be available on a regular basis to answer student questions, clarify course materials and assignments, and meet individually with students.
6. In-progress grades are assigned at the discretion of the instructor and must be negotiated prior to the end of the course.

Grading Forms

Graded Post on Starr’s Goodbye to the Age of Newspapers (15 points)

QUESTIONS: Your discussion post that addresses all questions below should be a minimum of 50-100 words per question. Briefly reply to at least two classmates posts.

- According to Starr, foreign news coverage has dramatically decreased: "the number of American newspaper correspondents abroad dropped 30 percent between 2002 and 2006." Do you think the decrease in foreign news coverage has a negative impact on society? Why or why not?
- Starr states that the lower the circulation of a newspaper within the country, the higher the corruption rate. Do you agree or disagree with this statement? Why or why not?
- With the Internet becoming a main source of news, how will you or do you distinguish between the biased and non-biased sources online?

University Policies

ADA Statement:
National-Louis University seeks to ensure that its programs are accessible to all persons. Students in need of special assistance or an accommodation regarding any of the course requirements as outlined in this syllabus, the course objectives and/or course evaluation and assessment criteria, are advised to notify me within the first two weeks of class. We will meet privately to discuss resolution of your issue, which may or may not include an appropriate referral (e.g. a Writing specialist, the Academic Accommodations Coordinator, the Director of Diversity or the Office of Student Affairs). Confidentiality will be maintained regarding your special needs.

Academic Policy Statement
With respect to the academic honesty of students, it is expected that all material submitted as part of any class exercise, in or out of class, is the actual work of the student whose name appears on the material or is properly documented otherwise. The concept of academic honesty includes plagiarism as well as receiving and/or giving improper assistance and other forms of cheating on coursework. Students found to have engaged in academic dishonesty are subject to disciplinary action and may be dismissed from the University.

Faculty has the right to analyze and evaluate students’ course work. Students may be asked to submit their papers electronically to a third-party plagiarism detection service. Students who are asked to submit their papers, and refuse, must provide proof for every cited work comprising the cover page and first cited page for each source listed in the bibliography. When evidence of academic dishonesty is discovered, an established procedure of resolution will be activated to bring the matter to closure.

The Policy on Academic Honesty is in the University Catalog as a hard copy and online at http://www.nl.edu/registrar/catalogs.cfm and in the Student Guidebook as a hard copy and online at http://www.nl.edu/StudentServices/studentaffairs/StudentHandbook/.
